1. Aarav's Kundli in Plain English

This is a child edition, so it is written to the parents. Before the technical detail, here is what Aarav's chart is broadly saying. Everything else in this report expands on these four themes.

Aarav's rising sign (Lagna) is Pisces. This is how he meets the world: gentle, kind and quick to sense how the people around him feel. His Lagna lord Jupiter sits in the 4th house of home and mother, so a calm, loving home is the ground everything else grows from.

His Moon sign (Rashi) is Capricorn, in Shravana Nakshatra, the star of listening. Inside, Aarav is steady and serious for his age. He settles best with routine, and he learns a great deal simply by hearing: voices, songs, stories and prayers.

His Vedic Sun sign is Pisces, sitting with an exalted Venus and with Saturn in the 1st house. Exalted Venus in the 1st forms Malavya Yoga, one of the five classical Mahapurusha yogas, which traditionally gives warmth, charm and a natural love of music, art and beauty.

Aarav was born in the Moon Mahadasha, which runs until June 2035 (about age 9). This is a chapter about feelings, closeness to his mother, and a secure home. The Timing section gives every date.

2. Aarav's Kundli at a Glance

A one-page overview of every major life area — read this if you only have five minutes. Each line is drawn from actual factors in Aarav's chart, not from his Sun sign alone.

CORE PERSONALITY

Pisces rising with Jupiter, its lord, in the 4th house of home: a gentle, sensitive and affectionate child whose sense of safety comes from family. A Capricorn Moon adds patience and a steady, slightly serious streak.

STRONGEST QUALITIES

Venus exalted in the 1st house (Malavya Yoga) for warmth, charm and artistic taste. Jupiter, the Lagna lord, in a kendra (angular house), which steadies the whole chart. Moon, the lord of learning (5th house), well placed in the 11th house of friends and gains.

MAJOR LIFE THEMES

Home and mother (Jupiter in the 4th). Friendships and a wide circle (Moon in the 11th). A rich inner world and later, links with faraway places (Mars, Mercury and Rahu together in the 12th).

LEARNING STYLE & FUTURE STRENGTHS

Shravana Moon learns by listening, so stories, songs, rhymes and being read to are especially valuable now. Mercury and Mars together point to a quick, technical mind that likes to take things apart and understand how they work. Career questions belong to the teenage years; the full adult reading can be added then.

COMFORT & SECURITY

Moon in the 11th house and Jupiter in the 4th describe a child who is comfortable at home and well supported by family and friends. Money and career readings are kept for when they become relevant.

BONDING & RELATIONSHIPS

Aarav bonds deeply with his mother and the close family. He warms to new people steadily rather than all at once. Marriage and partnership are read in adulthood, not in a child's report.

HEALTH & DAILY RHYTHM

Traditional view, not medical advice: Saturn in the 1st house asks for regular, unhurried routines: fixed sleep and meal times suit Aarav well. Any health concern belongs with your paediatrician.

FAMILY & HOME

Jupiter, the most protective planet in this chart, sits in the 4th house of home and mother. Home is Aarav's anchor. The Moon in the 11th house also suggests helpful elder siblings, cousins or a lively extended family.

TRAVEL & THE WIDER WORLD (LATER IN LIFE)

Three planets in the 12th house (Mars, Mercury, Rahu) traditionally show an interest in faraway places, languages and travel later in life. This is a theme for the late teens onward.

SPIRITUALITY

Pisces rising, Jupiter as Lagna lord and a 12th house full of planets give a natural pull toward prayer, music and quiet time. Children with this pattern often enjoy temple bells, chanting and stories from the scriptures.

CURRENT MAJOR LIFE PERIOD

Moon Mahadasha, birth to June 2035 (age 0 to 9). Within it: Mars sub-period until Nov 2026, Rahu from Nov 2026 to May 2028, then Jupiter until Sep 2029.

3. Aarav's Life in Plain Words

The rest of this report uses classical Vedic terms — Lagna, Nakshatra, Mahadasha, house lords, and so on. This section does not. It says the same things about your chart in ordinary English, so that you can use it at home even if you have never opened an astrology book. Every line is still derived from the actual placements in Aarav's chart.

WHO AARAV IS

Aarav is a soft-hearted, observant child. He picks up the mood of a room quickly, so a calm house makes a visible difference to him. Venus in the 1st house gives him an easy charm, and many people will find him a joy to be around.

HOW HIS MIND WORKS

Inside, he is steadier and more serious than he looks. The Capricorn Moon likes to know what comes next, so routines comfort him. Shravana Nakshatra is the star of listening: he will take in a lot from voices, songs and stories long before he can say much himself.

HOW HE LEARNS BEST

Aarav learns best by hearing, then by doing. Read aloud to him, sing rhymes and talk him through your day. Later, puzzles, building blocks and 'how does it work' toys suit the quick Mercury–Mars mind in his chart. Give him time to observe before you expect him to join in; that is his style, not shyness.

WHAT MAKES HIM FEEL SECURE

Security for Aarav means predictability: the same bedtime song, the same faces and a familiar blanket. When life changes (a move, a new sibling, starting school), give him extra time and warning, and he adapts well.

BONDS & FRIENDSHIPS

His strongest bond is with his mother (Jupiter in the 4th house). He also enjoys being part of a group of children, especially older cousins or siblings (Moon in the 11th). He does not like being rushed into new company; let him warm up at his own pace.

BODY, ENERGY & DAILY RHYTHM

Saturn in the 1st house is traditionally read as a call for steady habits rather than a worry. Regular sleep, unhurried meals, time outdoors in the morning sun and plenty of rest after busy days suit him. This is a traditional reading, not medical advice. Please take any health question to your paediatrician.

FAMILY & HOME LIFE

Home is Aarav's centre of gravity. A warm, peaceful house with prayer, music and family meals is the single most helpful thing you can give this chart.

THE CHAPTER AARAV IS IN RIGHT NOW

Moon Mahadasha, birth to June 2035 (age 0 to 9). The Moon is Aarav's 5th-house lord (learning and creativity), placed in the 11th house of friends. This chapter is about feeling safe, bonding, and early learning through listening and play. Right now he is in the Mars sub-period (until Nov 2026): an active, restless stretch, so plenty of movement and outdoor time help.

COMING UP NEXT

Mars Mahadasha, June 2035 to June 2042 (about age 9 to 16). More energy, more drive and more interest in sport, science and building things. Mars is his 9th-house lord (fortune, teachers), so a good teacher or coach can make a real difference in these years.

COMING UP NEXT

Rahu Mahadasha, June 2042 to June 2060 (about age 16 to 34). Higher studies and the first big steps into the wider world. Rahu in the 12th often brings study or work connected with faraway places or technology. The adult report can read this chapter in detail when the time comes.

IF YOU READ NOTHING ELSE, READ THIS

Keep home calm and predictable, read and sing to Aarav every day, and let him watch before he joins in. His chart is built around a secure home and learning by listening. Give him both, and the rest of the chart has firm ground to grow on.

9. House-by-House Analysis

Each house (bhava) governs a specific domain of life. The reading below combines the house's natural theme with the planets occupying it and the placement of the house lord.

House 1 — Self, Temperament & Vitality

Pisces rises, ruled by Jupiter, which sits in the 4th house of home. Aarav's sense of who he is will be shaped strongly by his home and his mother.

Sun here: The Sun at the very start of Pisces gives quiet confidence and a wish to be useful to others.

Venus here: Venus is exalted here and forms Malavya Yoga: warmth, charm, a sweet nature and a natural love of music and beauty.

Saturn here: Saturn adds patience and seriousness beyond his years. He does best with routine and gentle, consistent guidance.

House 2 — Family, Speech & Food Habits

Aries is the 2nd house, ruled by Mars in the 12th. Speech may come at its own pace and then all at once. Family mealtimes and talking at the table help.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 3 — Courage, Effort & Siblings

Taurus is the 3rd house, ruled by exalted Venus in the 1st. His courage is the gentle, steady kind. He enjoys music, drawing and making things with his hands.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 4 — Mother, Home & Emotional Security

Gemini is the 4th house, ruled by Mercury in the 12th.

Jupiter here: Jupiter, Aarav's Lagna lord, sits here. This is a strong traditional sign of a protective mother, a home full of learning, and deep emotional security that comes from family.

House 5 — Intelligence, Creativity & Play

Cancer is the 5th house, ruled by the Moon in the 11th house of friends. Aarav learns well alongside other children, and his imagination grows through stories and pretend play.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 6 — Daily Routine, Health Habits & Challenges

Leo is the 6th house, ruled by the Sun in the 1st.

Ketu here: Ketu here is traditionally a good placement for overcoming obstacles. It also suggests a child who does not like fuss; simple, regular routines suit him better than complicated ones.

House 7 — Social Harmony & Getting Along

Virgo is the 7th house, ruled by Mercury in the 12th. For now this house is read as how Aarav gets along one-to-one with others: thoughtful and fair. Partnership and marriage are read in adulthood.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 8 — Resilience & Inner Strength

Libra is the 8th house, ruled by exalted Venus in the 1st. This gives inner resilience and the ability to bounce back after change.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 9 — Father, Teachers & Good Fortune

Scorpio is the 9th house, ruled by Mars in the 12th. A father or teacher who is active, practical and encouraging suits him. Mars also rules his Mars Mahadasha (age 9 to 16), when good teachers matter most.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 10 — Future Direction & Duty

Sagittarius is the 10th house, ruled by Jupiter in the 4th. Jupiter also looks directly at this house. Traditionally this points to a life direction built on knowledge, values and helping others. The details belong to the adult reading.

No planets occupy this house directly — it takes its cues from its lord's placement above.

House 11 — Friends, Wider Family & Wishes

Capricorn is the 11th house, ruled by Saturn in the 1st.

Moon here: The Moon here gives a warm circle of friends, cousins and elders, and a child who is happiest as part of a group.

House 12 — Sleep, Inner World & Faraway Places

Aquarius is the 12th house, ruled by Saturn in the 1st.

Mars here: Energy that goes inward: Aarav needs real rest and a quiet wind-down after busy days.

Mercury here: A rich imagination and a mind that keeps working in the background. Mercury was retrograde at birth, so he may think things over before speaking.

Rahu here: Curiosity about the unusual and the faraway. In adult life this placement is often linked with travel or work abroad.

10. Key Yogas in Your Chart

The following classical yogas are formed in your chart. Yogas are specific planetary combinations that classical texts recognise for distinctive results. Quality matters more than quantity — we only include yogas whose actual conditions are satisfied.

Malavya Yoga · Strong (Mahapurusha)

Venus exalted in the 1st house, an angular house. One of the five Mahapurusha yogas: grace, charm, artistic taste and comfort in life.

Raj Yoga (Mercury–Mars) · Strong

Mercury (lord of the 4th and 7th houses) joins Mars (lord of the 2nd and 9th). This is a classical Raj Yoga. Because it forms in the 12th house, its results tend to come through study, research or work connected with faraway places, and they show up later in life.

11. Doshas Examined

The classical afflictions below are checked with clear PRESENT / ABSENT labels. Where cancellations apply, they are called out — a dosha with cancellation typically loses most of its bite in traditional interpretation.

Mangal Dosha (Kuja Dosha) PRESENT — Mild, cancelled

Mars is in the 12th house. This is only relevant to marriage matching in adulthood. Jupiter's aspect on Mars cancels it in the traditional view, so there is nothing to do about it now.

Cancellations present: Jupiter's aspect on Mars — traditional interpretation is that these substantially reduce the dosha's practical impact.

Kaal Sarp Dosha ABSENT

Planets sit on both sides of the Rahu–Ketu axis, so there is no Kaal Sarp Dosha.

Sade Sati (at birth) ABSENT

Saturn was not in the 12th, 1st or 2nd house from the Moon at birth, so Aarav was not born during Sade Sati.

Pitra Dosha ABSENT

The Sun is not afflicted by Rahu, so Pitra Dosha is not indicated.

12. Vimshottari Dasha — Your Life Timing

The Vimshottari Dasha divides your life into planetary periods (Mahadashas) totalling 120 years. Each Mahadasha unfolds through sub-periods (Antardashas) in a fixed sequence. The reading of any period combines the planet's natural nature with its placement and functional role in your chart — not a generic "Saturn = bad, Jupiter = good".

What's Running Right Now

CURRENTLY RUNNING

Moon Mahadasha

Aarav was born in the Moon Mahadasha, which runs from birth until 12 Jun 2035. In his chart the Moon rules the 5th house (learning, creativity) and sits in the 11th house (friends, wider family). It is also the lord of his birth star, Shravana. This is a gentle, home-centred chapter: bonding, feeling secure, and learning by listening. Sub-periods inside it: Mars until 10 Nov 2026 (active and restless, so let him move), Rahu 10 Nov 2026 to 11 May 2028 (curious and changeable, so keep routines steady), then Jupiter until 10 Sep 2029 (an easy, happy stretch for early learning).

Next Major Life Periods

MARS MAHADASHA · JUN 2035 → JUN 2042

About age 9 to 16. Energy, sport, science and making things. Mars rules the 9th house of teachers and fortune: a good mentor in these years can shape his direction.

RAHU MAHADASHA · JUN 2042 → JUN 2060

About age 16 to 34. Higher studies and first steps into the wider world. Rahu in the 12th house often links this chapter with technology, new fields or faraway places.

Life-Stage Timeline (by Age)

Broad life-stage labels are derived from Dasha transitions relative to your date of birth. The Mahadasha lord shows the flavour of the period; the stage label gives its typical human context.

13. Life Areas — Personalised Reading

This is the heart of your report. Each area below is read directly from the specific placements in your chart, not from a generic sun-sign horoscope. Where the current life-phase (Mahadasha) affects the area, it is called out.

Personality — How Aarav Shows Up

Pisces rising makes Aarav gentle, intuitive and kind. Exalted Venus in the 1st adds charm and a love of music and beauty. Saturn in the 1st gives him a serious, patient side and a need for routine. With a Capricorn Moon in Shravana, he is a careful listener who likes to understand before he acts.

Learning, Talents & Future Direction

Shravana is the star of listening, and the Moon (5th lord of learning) sits in the 11th house of friends: Aarav learns well by hearing, and alongside other children. Mercury with Mars gives a quick, technical mind, good at puzzles, numbers and 'how does it work' questions. The 10th house, looked at by its own lord Jupiter, points to a future built on knowledge and values. A full career reading is best done in the teenage years.

Comfort & Security

Comfort and security come through family (Jupiter in the 4th) and friends (Moon in the 11th). For a young child this section is about feeling provided for, and the chart is supportive here. Money questions belong in the adult reading.

Friendships & Getting Along

For now: Aarav is affectionate and loyal, slow to warm up and then deeply attached. He enjoys group play more than being the centre of attention. Marriage and partnership are deliberately not read in a child's report. The adult edition covers them from the late teens.

Health & Daily Rhythm

Traditional view, not medical advice. Saturn in the 1st asks for steady routines; Mars, Mercury and Rahu in the 12th house of sleep ask for a proper wind-down at night (dim lights, quiet voices, the same lullaby). Ketu in the 6th is traditionally good for recovering from small setbacks. Please take any real concern to your paediatrician.

Home & Emotional Security

Jupiter in the 4th is the strongest sign in this chart of a warm, protective home. Prayer, music and shared meals at home do more for Aarav than any outside activity in these early years.

Mother — 4th House · 4th Lord · Moon

The 4th house holds Jupiter, Aarav's Lagna lord, and the Moon (the planet of the mother) rules his current Mahadasha. Together they show a close, protective bond with his mother, the strongest relationship in this chart.

Father — 9th House · 9th Lord · Sun

The 9th house is Scorpio, ruled by Mars. A father who is active, practical and encouraging suits Aarav. Doing things together (walks, building, sport) builds the bond best.

Siblings — 3rd House · 3rd Lord · Mars

The 3rd house is ruled by exalted Venus, and the Moon sits in the 11th house of elder siblings and cousins. This traditionally points to warm, supportive ties with siblings and cousins.

Creativity & Intelligence

Cancer, the 5th house of intelligence and creativity, is ruled by the Moon, Aarav's current Mahadasha lord. This makes the next nine years a natural window for stories, songs, languages and imaginative play.

Dharma, Learning & Spirituality

Pisces rising, Jupiter as Lagna lord and a full 12th house give a natural spiritual streak. Many children with this pattern love temple visits, bhajans and stories of the gods. Let it grow naturally.

14. Simple Practices for Parents

Remedies in Vedic astrology are practical spiritual practices to harmonize specific planetary energies. Below are three chosen for Aarav's chart. None of them costs money or needs a paid ritual. Spiritual and daily practices come first — sacred mantras, mindful daily disciplines, parental prayers, and charitable giving (daan) form the classical, universally safe Vedic path.

Jupiter (Guru) — Lagna Lord, In The 4th House Of Home

Jupiter rules Aarav's Pisces rising and sits in the house of home and mother. Supporting it supports his overall well-being and his love of learning.

Mantra (primary practice)

A parent can chant Om Brim Brihaspataye Namah (ॐ बृं बृहस्पतये नमः), 11 times on Thursday mornings.

Daily Practice

Read to Aarav every day, even for five minutes. Keep a small corner of books and pictures for him.

Charity

On Thursdays, give books, slates or stationery to children who need them, or chana dal and bananas to a temple kitchen.

Parental & Sacred Practice

Light a diya at the family altar on Thursday evenings and let him watch the flame and hear the prayer.

Moon (Chandra) — Current Mahadasha Lord (Birth To 2035)

The Moon rules Aarav's current life chapter and his birth star. A calm Moon means good sleep, an easy mood and a secure bond with his mother.

Mantra (primary practice)

Om Som Somaya Namah (ॐ सों सोमाय नमः), 11 times on Monday evenings, softly near him.

Daily Practice

Keep bedtime the same each night, with dim lights and the same lullaby or chant.

Charity

On Mondays, give milk, rice or white sweets to those in need.

Parental & Sacred Practice

On full-moon nights, sit with him for a few minutes in the moonlight or by a window.

Saturn (Shani) — Moon-Sign Lord, In The 1st House

Saturn rules his Capricorn Moon and sits in his 1st house. It rewards rhythm and patience, and it settles best when life is orderly.

Mantra (primary practice)

Om Sham Shanaishcharaya Namah (ॐ शं शनैश्चराय नमः), 11 times on Saturday mornings.

Daily Practice

Fixed times for waking, meals and sleep. Small, predictable routines are Saturn's medicine.

Charity

On Saturdays, help an elderly person or a worker in your home or building: food, warm clothes or simply time.

Parental & Sacred Practice

Teach respect for elders early: touching grandparents' feet, greeting the people who help at home.

15. Aarav's Chart in Summary

If you read only one section of this report, read this one. Each bullet below draws a chart-specific conclusion for a distinct life area. Together they capture the essence of the entire reading.

OVERALL NATURE

Gentle, kind and sensitive (Pisces rising), with a steady, serious core (Capricorn Moon).

GREATEST GIFT

Malavya Yoga from exalted Venus in the 1st: warmth, charm and a love of music and beauty.

HOW HE LEARNS

By listening first (Shravana Nakshatra), then by doing. Stories, songs and being read to matter most.

MIND

Quick and technical (Mercury with Mars), but thinks before speaking (Mercury retrograde).

EMOTIONAL NEEDS

Routine, a calm home and time to warm up to new people.

HOME & MOTHER

The strongest area of the chart: Jupiter, the Lagna lord, in the 4th house.

FATHER & TEACHERS

Responds to active, practical, encouraging guidance (9th lord Mars).

FRIENDS & FAMILY

Happiest in a group: Moon in the 11th house of friends and elder siblings.

SLEEP & REST

Needs a proper wind-down. Three planets in the 12th house of sleep give a busy inner world.

HEALTH HABITS

Steady routines suit him (Saturn in the 1st). Traditional reading, not medical advice.

CURRENT CHAPTER

Moon Mahadasha until Jun 2035: bonding, security and early learning.

NEXT CHAPTER

Mars Mahadasha Jun 2035 to Jun 2042: energy, sport and a key role for teachers.

LATER LIFE (FOR LATER)

Faraway places and new fields feature in adult life (Rahu in the 12th); the adult edition reads this.

DOSHAS

No Kaal Sarp, no Pitra Dosha, not born in Sade Sati. A mild Mangal placement is cancelled by Jupiter and only matters for marriage matching.

16. The Child Behind the Kundali

A synthesis of the whole chart — written as a human astrologer would, after reading everything above together.

Aarav's chart is a gentle one. Pisces rises, ruled by Jupiter, and Jupiter sits in the house of home and mother. Before anything else, this is a child whose well-being flows from a warm, secure family. Exalted Venus in the 1st house forms Malavya Yoga, a classical mark of charm, grace and an artistic heart.

Inside, the Capricorn Moon in Shravana Nakshatra gives him a steady, listening mind. He watches, takes things in and then acts. Routines are not a restriction for him; they are what lets him relax. Saturn in the 1st house says the same thing: rhythm and patience bring out his best.

The 12th house holds Mars, Mercury and Rahu, a busy inner world. As a child this shows up as imagination, a need for real rest, and curiosity about how things work. In adult life the same planets often point to study or work linked with faraway places or new fields of knowledge.

For the next nine years, the Moon Mahadasha keeps the focus on home, feelings and early learning. The most useful thing parents can do is simple: a calm house, a steady routine, and reading and singing to Aarav every day.

A chart shows tendencies, not fixed destinies. The most useful posture is to work with the chart's grain — leaning into its natural strengths, tempering its challenges through the practices in Section 14, and using the timing of Dasha periods to schedule what actually needs those winds behind it.

About This Sample

This is a real report generated by our engine, but the birth details (Aarav Sharma, 15 March 2026, 06:45, Jaipur) are fictional. Your report uses your own birth details and is checked by our team before it is sent. Children under 5 receive this child edition, written to the parents; adults receive the full adult edition with career, money, marriage and health readings.

Calculation Engine

All planetary positions in this report were computed using the Swiss Ephemeris — the same astronomical engine trusted by professional astrology software worldwide (Solar Fire, Kepler, Jagannatha Hora). Derived from NASA JPL's DE431 dataset.

Ayanamsa

We use the Lahiri Ayanamsa, the official ayanamsa adopted by the Government of India's Calendar Reform Committee (1955). This is the standard used in mainstream Vedic astrology.

House System

Houses are computed using the Whole Sign system, which is the traditional Vedic (Parashari) method. The Ascendant sign becomes House 1, the next sign House 2, and so on.

Divisional Charts (Varga)

Navamsa (D9) and Dasamsa (D10) are calculated as per Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra, using the movable/fixed/dual sign rules.

Interpretation

Every interpretation in this report is derived from the actual factors in your chart — placement, dignity, house lordship, aspects, current Vimshottari phase — not from your Sun sign alone. The writing style prefers calibrated language ("traditionally indicates", "chart supports") over absolute predictions. Astrology shows tendencies; life is shaped by the interaction of those tendencies with your effort, choices, and circumstances.

Your Data Privacy (DPDP Act Compliance)

In accordance with India's Digital Personal Data Protection (DPDP) Act, we are transparent about how your data is handled. We securely retain your basic birth details (name, date, time, and place of birth) alongside your email and order records solely for generating, quality-curating, and re-delivering your personalised Kundli report, as well as providing customer support. Your information is never sold, leased, or shared with third-party advertisers or external data brokers.

Verify Our Calculations

You can independently verify the planetary positions in this report against astro.com (using Lahiri ayanamsa) or the free Jagannatha Hora software. Small variations of a few arc-minutes may occur due to different ephemeris versions — anything beyond that, please email us and we will investigate and re-issue your report at no cost.
